We started this journal on

How to Use This Journal

This is a slow book. Each week brings one gentle theme and three questions, and every question has room for both of you to answer in your own words.

Choose who is the Teacup and who is the Mug, and write your names on the page before. Then look for your little cup beside each answer space, so you always know where to write.

Answer on your own first, without peeking, then swap and read. Or sit side by side with something warm and talk it through before you write. There is no wrong way.

Each week ends with one small thing to do together: a walk, a recipe, a song. Tick the box when you have done it.

The year is split into four seasons. Start in whichever season you are in, or simply at Week 1. At the end of every season there is a check-in, and at the end of the year, letters to each other.

Skip a week if life gets busy. The questions will wait for you.

Notes

Thank You

Thank you for sharing a year of questions with this little book. We hope it gave you plenty of slow mornings, long talks and new things to love about each other.

If you enjoyed it, a short review on Amazon helps other couples find it, and it means a great deal to a small, independent author.
